Open Enrollment for Covered California Has Begun

Being covered is the best plan, especially when it comes to health insurance.

With Covered California's three-month open-enrollment period currently underway, it's a good time to shop around for the health plan that provides the best value to you and your family.

Through Covered California, you can obtain affordable, brand-name health coverage, and you may be eligible for upfront tax credits — money you can receive now to help pay for your monthly premiums. You can also enroll in the no-cost or low-cost Medi-Cal program through Covered California.
