

2017 Special Enrollment Verification Quick Guide for Certified Enrollers

Overview

Consumers and enrollers completing an online application will be notified via language in the application that Covered California may seek to verify the validity of their self-attested Qualifying Life Event \(QLE\) in order to be eligible for Special Enrollment Period.

Covered California will contact a random sample of consumers who enrolled during a SEP to request proof of the QLE. If the consumer does not provide acceptable documentation of their QLE within 30 days of the date on the original notice, their coverage can be terminated.

If a consumer is found to have been fraudulently enrolled into Covered California without a Qualifying Life Event, the certified enroller who assisted the consumer could potentially lose their certification. Don't risk losing your certification with Covered California and ensure all consumers who attest to having experienced a QLE are able to provide proof that they qualify for special enrollment.

The documents submitted to provide proof of the QLE will remain confidential and will only be used to determine eligibility for health insurance programs. They are not used for immigration enforcement purposes.

Extensions and Appeals

Explain the reason for the request and include the consumer case number.

If a consumer has been terminated as a result of not submitting their verification documents, they can request an appeal if they feel they were terminated unjustly. There is a 90 day timeframe to file an appeal. The timeframe begins with the date Covered California mailed the consumer letter (CCOE100). Please, follow the instructions in Covered California's consumer letter (CCOE100) regarding appeals.
